ECO 570 Environmental Economics

Fall 2023

Course Credits: 4

Contact Hours: 56 hours

Instructor: TBA

Email: TBA

COURSE OBJECTIVES

This course explores quantitative and qualitative research methods used to bridge the relationship between the economy and the environment. Topics throughout the semester will include sustainability, efficiency and optimality of natural resource uses, positive and negative externalities from the environment, cost-benefit analysis and pollution abatement models. This course will also touch upon key macro-economic topics such as international environmental policy and global cap and trade markets.

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Apply basic theories within the field of environmental- and resource economics;
2. Prepare an analytical policy report that develops knowledge and practical implementation of relevant economic theory in understanding and addressing an environmental or natural resource issue;
3. Develop an understanding of environmental issues and the various mechanisms used to improve upon market outcomes;
4. Evaluate cost-benefit analysis procedures intended to address issues related to preservation and conservation.

ATTENDANCE

1) Class attendance is required. Missing classes without permission will lead to decrease in overall grade.

Missing less than two classes: no penalty.

Missing more than two classes: 7% will be taken off from the overall grade.

If the instructor reports a student's frequent missing of class to the Soochow University Academic Administration Office, the student might get a written warning and might be prohibited from attending final exam.

2) Participants in this course are expected to arrive in class promptly and adequately prepared. The primary objective of this course is to critically engage with the readings and the subject matter. Therefore, course participants are expected to have completed the reading prior to class and prepare thoughtful reflections/commentaries to share with fellow colleagues.

LEARNING REQUIREMENTS

- 1) Late assignments are not acceptable and are subjected to grade deductions.
- 2) Assignments submitted in the wrong format will be counted as not submitted.
- 3) Failure to submit or fulfill any required course component results in failure of the class.
- 4) Make-up for midterm and final exams only with valid excuses, as defined by the University.
- 5) In order to earn a Certificate of Completion, participants must thoughtfully complete all assignments by stated deadlines and earn an average quiz score of 50% or greater.

TECHNOLOGY POLICY

The use of electronic devices in class is distracting, both for the user and for the rest of the class. Only non-programmable calculators can be used in the tests and exam. Any attempts to use cell phones and other electronic communication devices will be seemed as cheating. Laptops are discouraged, unless you use them for activities DIRECTLY related to the course (e.g., note taking, reading course documents).
